Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Ompompanoosuc Parish The one, like a lusty turbulent youth flowing on in defiance of all obstacles, carving out for himself an independent course through rock-ribbed hills, then rushing madly over the ledges, brushing aside every boulder in his path through Strafford and a corner of Thetford. The other, equally independent, like a saucy young maiden, skipped blithely down the hillsides of Vershire, then halting briefly in the meadows of Fairlee, where she either tired and sought a temporary resting place, or else she must have conceived the bold idea of there forming an independent inland sea, but finding herself too cramped and circumscribed by the surrounding hills, after chafing awhile under their restraint, she again broke her bounds and with flowing tresses she leaped and bounded like a very fiend down the valley into Thetford, where she again espied her noble brother. In her surprise and amazement she exclaimed Um! He equally embarrassed simply answered Pompa! And as they embraced both in unison cried out No such. There they vowed never again to separate, and henceforth they have meandered gently together down the stream of time leaving their blessings and benedictions on either side of their pathway, until they were enticed with all their stores of wealth and power to enter the Broadway of the Connecticut, where their identity ceased; but their treasures still continue to enrich and to perpetuate the prestige of that larger river. This beautiful valley with its rich table lands and splendid hunting grounds was for ages the home of the Red man. On its banks he fished for salmon and entrapped the wily beaver. On its sloping hillsides...
