Excerpt: . . . 12 intelligence to see the toxic mixture of corruption, insider business, organized crime and capital flight that undermined Russian re-forms and the effectiveness of our support. They were entirely visi-ble in the Russian press, even in English, and any attentive ob-server could see them. The historic failing of American policy in this period was that it gave support too uncritically and for too long to this phony crony capitalism in Russia. It did so rhetorically, politically, and finan-cially, chiefly through the IMF. The result has been the prospects for true economic reform in Russia have been made, in many ways, more difficult than they were initially. Worst of all, we have lost much respect and admiration among the Russian people, as have the very ideas of capitalism and democracy. Now, this in no way ignores...
