Willoughby, Dr. Boas, Mr. Pepper, Dr. Dixon, Dr. Kroeber, and others mentioned in these pages, he is indebted for constant favors. He hopes that errors will be condoned. gotten that the ideas, utilitarian and artistic, in the minds of the manufacturers themselves, serve to bestow special marks upon the work of different tribes so as to give to them ethnic or national significance under any circumstances. In the following chapters the typical forms of the various families of Indians will be illustrated. Were there no mixture of tribes it might be possible to state in every case the maker of each specimen from the technic and the ornamentation, though this opinion must be held with reserve. Throughout the entire continent the practice of capturing women was common; in each case the stolen ones carried to their homes the processes they had been familiar with in their native tribe. The Twana Indians on Puget Sound practice ten different methods of basket making; the Pomo Indians have eight processes; the Hopi Indians of Arizona have at least five. It is well known that each one of these tribes belong to synthetic families. In order to comprehend the extent of this relationship between the tribe and the art, the various basket making groups will be defined and the types of their work illustrated. (See Plates 154,155.) The mixing of basket work...
