OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54400868 Subject: Disability evaluation -- Employees -- Recruiting -- United States. Excerpt: . . . Figure 1: Percentage of DDSs by Type of Minimum Education Requirement for New Disability Examiners No educational 22 Combined requirements amounts to over one-third General Educational 4 of the DDSs Development (GED) 57 10 High school diploma 8 2-year college degree (associate) 4-year college degree (bachelor) Source: GAO analysis of responses to its survey of DDS directors, April 2003. Note: These figures represent the lowest possible educational level a DDS requires for a new examiner, regardless of the type of applicant for the job. Data provided in the figure do not add to 100 percent due to rounding. One DDS did not answer this question. To enhance the skills of both new and experienced examiners, SSA provides a number of optional training tools to the DDSs, including written materials covering new examiner basic training, interactive video programs supplementing basic training and providing refresher training and updates on policy changes, and materials and presentations provided by the regional offices and SSA headquarters. However, states have primary responsibility for training examiners, and many DDSs adapt or supplement SSAs training to meet their examiners training needs. DDSs generally provide new examiners with SSAs basic examiner training, followed by extensive on-the-job training, including mentoring by experienced examiners who guide the less experienced examiners in becoming more proficient in the disability claims process. New hires generally are not considered fully proficient until after one to two years of experience. The DDSs ability to hire examiners is affected by both SSA and state government funding decisions and hiring policies. SSA determines the funding available for each DDS and advises...
